In the wake of the 9/11 attacks, the world has become increasingly aware of the threat posed by Islamic extremism. However, many people are still unaware of the more subtle and insidious threat posed by the latent Islamic invasion into the New World.

This invasion is not a military one, but rather a demographic and cultural one. Muslims are coming to the New World in increasing numbers, and they are slowly but surely changing the culture of our societies.

This invasion is having a number of adverse effects on the New World. One of the most serious is the threat to our freedom of speech. Muslims are increasingly demanding that their religious beliefs be respected, even if those beliefs conflict with the laws of the land. This is leading to a chilling effect on free speech, as people are afraid to speak out against Islam for fear of being labeled as "Islamophobic."

Another serious threat posed by the latent Islamic invasion is the threat to our national security. Many Muslims are coming to the New World with the goal of establishing a caliphate, or Islamic state. This caliphate would be a threat to the security of the United States and its allies.

The latent Islamic invasion is a serious threat to the New World. We must be aware of this threat and take steps to protect our culture and our way of life.

What can be done to stop the latent Islamic invasion?

There are a number of things that can be done to stop the latent Islamic invasion. One important step is to secure our bFree Downloads and stop the flow of illegal immigration. We must also make sure that those who are coming to the New World are not coming with the goal of establishing a caliphate.

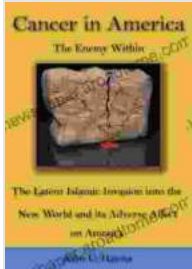

Another important step is to educate our citizens about the threat posed by Islamic extremism. We must teach them about the history of Islam and the dangers of radical Islam. We must also teach them how to recognize the signs of radicalization and how to report it to the authorities.

Finally, we must stand up to the intimidation tactics of Islamic extremists. We must not be afraid to speak out against Islam when it is necessary. We must also support those who are being targeted by Islamic extremists.

The latent Islamic invasion is a serious threat, but it is one that can be stopped. We must take action now to protect our culture and our way of life.

The latent Islamic invasion is a real and present danger to the New World. We must be aware of this threat and take steps to protect our culture and our way of life. We must secure our bFree Downloads, educate our citizens, and stand up to the intimidation tactics of Islamic extremists. If we do not take action, the latent Islamic invasion will continue to have a devastating impact on the New World.
